

I am appalled that Sinclair Broadcasting is forcing their stations to air "Stolen Honor" a few days before the election. This is a blatant anti-Kerry documentary. If this program is aired, the stations should be required to give Kerry equal time.

The airwaves do not belong to Sinclair; they belong to the people. Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest.

We need stronger media ownership rules, not weaker ones. Sinclair's actions show why the license renewal process needs to change.
